POINTS

JANUARY 2019

...A deeply textured, rich and succulent rendition of Sangiovese...exuberant flavors of sun-drenched fruit... with tarry notes of toasted spice, licorice and Spanish cedar. This wine ages in large oak casks...for four years followed by an additional two years in bottle. – M.L.

MAY 2019

Baked plum, new leather, sunbaked earth, wild herb and tobacco aromas form the nose along with a balsamic whiff of camphor. The tense, structured palate delivers dried cherry, cinnamon, crushed mint and licorice framed in firm fine-grained tannins... —K.O.

Decanter

FEBRUARY 2019

...Dripping with exuberant aromas of rich dark plum, warm baking spices, fennel and dried Mediterranean herbs... there is plenty of concentrated fruit here and layers of ripe tannins in support. It finishes with an appetizing salinity. – M.M.

vinous

JANUARY 2022

...Silky-smooth and smoky, with dark mineral-tinged red berries and sour citrus tones cascading across the palate. Grippy tannins linger long, and although this is structured, there's a bit of early appeal here... yet still excellent over the medium term... An excellent effort in a warm and dry vintage. – E.G.

JUNE 2019

Aromas of bright red cherries and plums sit neat and pure. This has quite dense and neatly polished texture with a wealth of ripe red and black cherries pervading the finish. The tannins roll out seamlessly. Drink or hold. – J.S.
