...Robust and evident power. It also offers a rich and dense textural presentation that should serve the wine nicely as it evolves over the next 10 years or more in your cellar. Dark cherry and wild blackberry segue spice, leather, cola and licorice. - M.L.

Some light leather and cedary oak with spiced red cherries and dried herbs. The palate has a very supple, fine array of tannins that carry ripe red cherry flavors long and even. A very smooth finish. Drink or hold. - J.S.
