

MASTROBERARDINO

RADICI FIANO DI AVELLINO DOCG 2019

Fiano di Avellino DOCG, Italy

93

POINT

JAMESSUCKLING.COM

FEBRUARY 2022

The lemons, lemon grass and dried peaches are embracing on the nose, following through to the palate with a creamy texture and a long, precise finish. Nicely focused. Drink now. – J.S.

91

POINT

WINEENTHUSIAST MAGAZINE

JUNE 2020

Exotic-fruit, pear and white-spring flower aromas mingle together with a delicate whiff of smoke. The savory, vibrant palate features white stone fruit, lemon drop and a hint of honeyed almond alongside tangy acidity. A saline note adds depth. – K.O.

91

POINTS

vinous

MAY 2020

...Remarkably fresh and vibrant, showing ripe pear with hints of mango. A whiff of smoky florals evolve as the Radici sweeps across the senses with grace, displaying flavors of ripe orchard fruits, then savory hints of sage and minerals. The finish is long and fresh, neatly framed by a twang of residual acids with a saline quality... – E.G.

90

POINTS

Wine Spectator

MARCH 2021

This is lightly creamy and minerally, a light-bodied white with an overtone of smoke and stone layered with the well-cut acidity and flavors of Asian pear, pickled ginger and lemon thyme. Drink now through 2024. –A.N.