

JEAN-LUC COLOMBO

CORNAS "LES RUCHETS" 2019

Rhône Valley, France

95

POINTS

RobertParker.com

JANUARY 2022

...Impressed by the quality... which stands out for its concentration, richness and velvety texture. Full-bodied, it delivers layers of mulberry fruit and is tinged with hints of dark chocolate, black olives and licorice, yet offers a succulent, mouthwatering finish. –J.C.

95

POINTS

vinous

DECEMBER 2022

...Plush, smoke- and spice-accented cassis and blackberry flavors stain the palate and are braced by a spine of juicy acidity. Becomes sweeter with air and shows a hint of cola on the wonderfully long, smoky finish, which features broad tannins and lingering florality.... –J.R.

94

POINTS

Wine Spectator

FEBRUARY 2022

This rolls through slowly but surely and is packed with dark currant and fig paste flavors, with dark olive, singed bay leaf and worn leather accents filling in through the finish, where a smoldering cast iron note can be found... –J.M.

CELLAR SELECTION

94

POINTS

DECEMBER 2023

A captivating bouquet of purple flowers welcomes the nose on a journey through an overgrown botanical garden down the path to a dewy forest. The palate is complex, with mulled plums and fresh blackberries, roasted meat and clove, with a light sprinkling of green peppercorn. A stunning wine... –A.C.C.

94

POINTS

JAMES SUCKLING.COM

APRIL 2022

The bright red-fruit aromas of this beautifully elegant Cornas leap out of the glass at you... The secret to this lies in the fine-grained tannins that drive the long, velvety finish. From organically grown grapes. Delicious now, but also excellent aging potential... –J.S.