...Darker-hued than the estate's traditional cuvée. Sourced from a largely sandy section of La Crau (Nord)... black cherries and plums to pull it all together over the medium term. Full-bodied, rich, concentrated, velvety and long, this should blossom with several years of cellaring, then drink well for at least a decade. – J.C.

Rich and gutsy in profile, with a mix of steeped blackberry, plum and fig notes wrapped in charcoal, warm earth and melted licorice notes. Features a swath of dark tobacco on the lengthy finish, which has a subtle old school feel to it...
