

TRIMBACH

PINOT GRIS VENDANGES TARDIVES 2008

Alsace, France

93
POINTS

MAY 2011

The palate is just as sinfully rich as the nose implies, encompassing as well a honeyed intensity of quince and mirabelle preserves; white Burgundy-like toasted brioche; and hints of brown spices... One could certainly plan on following this for a quarter century. – D.S.

92
POINTS

NOVEMBER 2014

A mouthwatering version framed by vivid acidity, this offers a finely knit weave of apricot preserves, candied orange zest, clover honey, biscotti and ground spice. Features a well-cut finish, with more spice and smoke notes. – A.N.

92
POINTS

NOVEMBER 2010

Fat, rich and quite sweet but with a firm backbone of acidity giving it a youthfully aggressive character. An opulent but juicy midweight that remains this side of glycerol. Finishes with strong stone fruit flavors and excellent grip... Has the balance to reward patience. – S.T.