COL D'ORCIA

"OLMAIA" CABERNET SAUVIGNON
SANT'ANTIMO DOC 2013

BACKGROUND

As one of the original estates of Montalcino and now the largest certified organic estate in Tuscany, Col d'Orcia is a leader in Brunello di Montalcino, helping to define and promote one of Italy's most prestigious wine regions. Tradition, integrity and sustainability are the pillars of the estate, whose classic style wines are celebrated all over the world. Proudly defined as an 'organic island,' Col d'Orcia is committed to maintaining the natural environment in which it operates and has, for many years, employed organic farming practices.

APPELLATION

Tuscany, Italy

VARIETAL COMPOSITION

100% Cabernet Sauvignon

TERROIR & VINTAGE NOTES

The estate's name translates to "the hill overlooking the Orcia River," due to its position in the undulating hills between the Orcia River and Sant'Angelo in Colle. Here, southern orientations provide vines with abundant exposure to sunshine and vineyard soils comprised of limestone and marl facilitate natural irrigation.

Located at about 1000 feet above sea level, the estate is favorably positioned against Mount Amiata (5,700 feet) which helps shield the property from floods and hail. The climate is typically Mediterranean, with limited rainfall coming in from the Tyrrhenian coast, 21 miles away.

WINEMAKING

Grapes are fermented on the skins for 20 days in 150hl stainless steel vats at a controlled temperature of less than 86°F.

AGEING

The wine is aged 18 months in 225L barrique (Allier and Tronçais) , followed by a further 8 months refinement in bottle.

TASTING NOTES

On the nose, aromas of ripe blackberries accentuated by noble spices representative of the variety and the terroir. The palate nuances a wine that is full-bodied, meaty, well-structured, culminating in a long and elegant finish. Well-matched with roasts, grilled meats and game; decant before serving
