Piedmont, Italy

POINTS

FEBRUARY 2016

Loaded with finesse, this luminous, structured wine opens with enticing aromas of pressed rose, wild berry, clove and a balsamic note. The polished, delicious palate smacks of raspberry jelly, wild cherry, cinnamon and star anise alongside bright acidity and lithe tannins. A mineral note energizes the lingering finish. Drink 2018–2029. – K.O.

JULY 2015

Crushed flowers, orange peel, sweet tobacco, dried herbs, mint and leather are all nicely laced together in the 2009 Gattinara Tre Vigne. Perfumed and vivid on the palate, with lovely brightness, pliancy and nuance, the 2009 is an excellent choice for drinking over the next handful of years. This is a very pretty Tre Vigne. – A.G.
