Earthy fragrances of violet, tilled soil, leather, menthol and spicy plum jump out of the glass. The delicious palate boasts structure and finesse, seamlessly weaving together ripe wild cherry, crushed blackberry, juicy plum and baking spice alongside tightly knit but polished tannins. Drink 2016–2023. - K.O.

MARCH 2014

...Brings together the best elements of the house style. Pliant and expressive on the palate... has more than enough depth to develop nicely for a number of years. Sweet tobacco, licorice, savory herbs and menthol all add layers of nuance to the dark red and black fruit. This is a solid showing from the Travaglini family. - A.G.
