GATTINARA DOCG 2016

Piedmont, Italy

POINTS

JULY 2020

...Aromas of forest berry, wild rose, tar and licorice, and there's a slightly exotic aroma as well that hints at Asian spice or church incense... There is beautiful harmony and complexity here, and... that slightly sweet note of peach or sun-dried apricot... This is a classic expression that shows the firmness and acidity to promise a smooth future aging process. – M.L.

Beautiful freshness and poise to this Gattinara with nutmeg, dried rose petals, saffron and cinnamon. A finely constructed structure follows with velvety, steely tannins and a spiced, chewy finish. Drink from 2021. – J.S.

Enticing scents of rose, blue flower and perfumed berry mingle with whiffs of alpine herb and camphor on this fragrant red. Medium bodied and loaded with finesse and energy, the elegant palate doles out ripe black cherry, licorice and tobacco before closing a mineral note suggesting iron. Polished tannins and bright acidity provide lithe support. Drink through 2026. –K.O.
