

JEAN-LUC COLOMBO

CORNAS "LES RUCHETS" 2010

Rhône Valley, France

95

POINTS

Wine Spectator

JULY 2013

Shows a lovely savory hint, with green olive and tobacco notes wrapping around serious chalky grip. The core of butter, cherry, red currant and blackberry fruit sits in the background for now... Driven by minerality, and should age wonderfully as the fruit comes forward... — J.M.

93

POINTS

vinous

MARCH 2013

Blackberry preserves and cherry-cola on the deeply scented nose and in the mouth... showing impressive concentration and a slow-building floral pastille quality. Becomes spicier with air and shows excellent clarity and focus. Dusty tannins give grip to the finish, which strongly echoes the blackberry note. — J.R.

CELLAR SELECTION

92

POINTS

WINE ENTHUSIAST MAGAZINE

OCTOBER 2013

More finely detailed aromas — violets and cracked pepper accent dark fruit... A full-bodied, dense expression of Cornas, with bright acids high-lighting plum and black olive notes... — J.C.