

JEAN-LUC COLOMBO

CORNAS "LES RUCHETS" 2009

Rhône Valley, France

94

POINTS

Wine Spectator

OCTOBER 2011

Very ripe, with lush plum sauce, blackberry confiture and linzer torte flavors all rolled together, with additional sweet tobacco, macerated olive and white pepper notes cutting through the finish. A long sanguine edge lingers. Shows great range and intensity. — J.M.

93

POINTS

WINE ENTHUSIAST MAGAZINE

OCTOBER 2013

Firmly in the style of the vintage, this is dense, full-bodied Cornas, with plenty of fruit. Intense plum, coffee and black olive notes dominate, while the tannins are ripe and plush. ...This is actually drinkable now, yet should age easily through at least 2025. — J.C.

92

POINTS

vinous

MARCH 2012

Cherry-vanilla, cola and dark berry compote on the nose. Supple and alluringly sweet, with deep black raspberry and bitter cherry flavors and slow-mounting spiciness. The cola and vanilla notes resonate on the long, smooth, energetic finish... surprisingly approachable but it clearly has the depth to age. — J.R.