

JEAN-LUC COLOMBO

CORNAS "LES RUCHETS" 2008

Rhône Valley, France

92

POINTS

Wine Spectator

MAY 2011

Ripe and brambly, with a very solid core of red and black currant fruit mashed with spice, tobacco and roasted cocoa hints. The long finish lets iron, cocoa and spice play out nicely, with ample flesh. — J.M.

91

POINTS

WINE ENTHUSIAST MAGAZINE

OCTOBER 2011

Full bodied and lush, with hints of sweet, smoky oak layered over espresso, black olive and sour plum. With faint suggestions of dried fruit and chocolate yet ample freshness on the finish — J.C.

91

POINTS

vinous

JANUARY 2011

Exotic, heady aromas of mulberry, blackcurrant, apricot, licorice and violet, with a suggestion of smokiness. Sweet and juicy but tight, with pliant dark berry compote and cherry qualities, peppery spices and a late note of black olive. The finish features fine-grained tannins and very good clarity. — J.R.