JANUARY 2019

...Fresh, modern take on an Etna white wine, with its controlled and precise nose of honey hints, white flowers and ripe limes. The palate is invigorating, juicy and lively. Full and rich but bursting with tangy, lime-juicy brightness. Vivacious and delicious. – S.H.

DECEMBER 2018

This elegant white grown on the slopes of Mount Etna opens with aromas of pressed wildflower, lemon, wet stone and wild herb. The aromas follow over to the bright, linear palate along with Indian fig and a saline note. – K.O.

...Herb character here with parsley, sage and thyme, which match very well with the praline and preserved lemons... Shows both green and tropical fruit, but it's all fleshy and beautifully interwoven with bright acidity, right up to the textured finish. – J.S.

OCTOBER 2018

Mouthwatering acidity frames this well-knit, light- to medium-bodied white, which offers a creamy plumpness to the flavors of baked quince, grated ginger, stone and nectarine. Drink now through 2023. –A.N.

AUGUST 2019

...Expressive aromas of peach, lime, minerals and white flowers. Offers a bright set of fresh and clean flavors of pomaceous orchard fruit, herbs and anise. Long and lemony on the zingy finish. Carricante shines brightly in this vintage. Nicely done. -I.D.
