This is powerful and full bodied, but the crackling acidity tightens its waist. The flavors of fresh quince, crunchy apricot, honeysuckle, lanolin and ginger are subtle today, but should become more expressive with time. The finish features a tactile mineral element and it's salty even. This is a great food wine, especially for pork or sausage.—A.Z.

...Pure, fresh and precisely representative of the Geisberg terroir with stony and saline notes. On the palate, this is an opulent, dense and baroque-styled Riesling with power, sweetness (just 3.9 grams per liter) and a firm and concentrated finish. This is another wine that needs some years to relax and breathe... -S.R.
