

TRIMBACH

RIESLING "SÉLECTION DE VIEILLES VIGNES" 2015

Alsace, France

93

POINTS

Wine Spectator

DECEMBER 2018

A mouthwatering range of Honeycrisp apple, nectarine, ginger pastry cream, lemon curd, smoke and star anise flavors in this long and creamy white. Supple, displaying beautiful tension from the finely meshed, racy acidity. Drink now through 2028. — A.N.

92

POINTS

Robert Parker
eRobertParker.com

JUNE 2017

Precise and elegant aromas of white, ripe fruits. Deep and complex on the mineral-structured palate, this is highly expressive, very elegant, dense and balanced... a long, pretty intense and aromatic finish... Remarkably good and intense Riesling on 1er cru level. — S.R.

92

POINTS

vinous

MARCH 2017

The very floral nose also hints at liquid minerals, minty herbs and marzipan. Then lemony fresh, featuring a peppery, zingy acidity that nicely frames the flavors of ripe orchard fruit, fennel and licorice. Very classy wine ... this will last, but is deceptively easy to drink now. — I.D.

92

POINTS

JAMES SUCKLING.COM

MAY 2018

A smoky, mineral wine with quite a lean body, but the acidity and discrete tannins support it well. It tastes much less austere than the nose suggests. A long lemon and mineral finish with some complexity. Drink or hold. — J.S.

90

POINTS

Wine & Spirits

APRIL 2018

Steely at first, this wine's bright citrus flavors are tense, needing air to lengthen out. As they do, they reveal some darker shades of phenolic bitterness, adding to the powerful sense of structure. Built to cellar. — T.T.