POINTS

APRIL 2015

This is a sweet Gewurztraminer, almost a dessert style... Rich, now fully matured, a wonderful medley of ripe fruits, honey and spice. Layers of flavors are interspersed with acidity that lifts the wine. It's opulent, delicious and ready to drink. – R.V.

The limestone soils seem to direct the structure of this wine, keeping it tight and formal. The fruit itself is markedly fresh, with a cool pink-grapefruit buzz of flavor and fine tannins that lengthen the zesty spice. Juicy and brisk... – T.T.

JUNE 2014

Finely wrought, this dry, compact white layers expressive accents of honeycomb, lanolin, iodine and smoke with flavors of poached pear, lemon meringue and green almond. Not your typical Gewürztraminer. – A.N.

Fresh lime and its zest... a hint of sweetness supports its notes of litchi and melon, which fruit pit and citrus peel bitterness helps to balance out for a virtually dry finish... Full and rich ...Fascinating low-tones of smoked meat, peat, and clove in a persistent, if faintly warm finish. – D.S.
