MARCH 2019

This is a wild Le Dix. The red fruit flavours and effervescent, pointed tannins dominate the scene...Just beginning to show its character, in a vintage marked by the heat and low yields that have given wines of great concentration and strength. ...it will evolve with grace. – P.T.

JUNE 2018

Austere and shy... this takes time to reveal the generous, ripe red fruit of Colchagua and also the sweet spices that characterize the cabernet from that sunny valley. But mainly it shows restraint in its rich herbal background notes. – P.T.

OCTOBER 2018

Pointy aromas of cherry and cassis are a bit jumpy and volatile but settle with airing. This Cabernet Sauvignon-led blend is powerfully built, with notable acidity. Blackberry, cocoa and spice flavors do a steady fade on the finish. – M.S.
